YOUR SOLAR HOME INC. OPENS CANADIAN OFFICE

Toronto, ON February 1, 2005: Your Solar Home Inc. is a new Canadian company (incorporated March 2004) that manufactures and provides renewable and energy efficient home and industrial heating solutions.

Your Solar Home Inc. is headed by Todd Kirkpatrick - President, with a senior management background in the information technology industry and Dr. Vladimir Nikiforov - VP of R&D, an expert in the field of thermal science, solar energy. Your Solar Home promises to deliver affordable and renewable energy solutions while reducing Greenhouse Gas (GHG) emissions. Your Solar Home will be delivering a 'hybrid' heating system for the home and commercial market. Combining renewable energy with HVAC (Heating and Ventilation, Air Conditioning) technology we can maximize energy efficiency. This reduces the demand for traditional energy sources and provides a reduction in Greenhouse gas emissions. Consumers and businesses have been faced with a 145% increase in natural gas in the last five years. "This translates into a monthly energy bill savings that is real and immediate," says Kirkpatrick.

Reducing GHG emissions has a positive impact on the environment and the planet overall. The Canadian government is inviting Canadians to take action by participating in the One-Tonne Challenge: Reduce energy use and GHG by 20%, or one-tonne to help protect our climate and our air quality. Utilizing highly efficient solar collectors, combining leading edge heating and ventilation technology we can reduce greenhouse gas emissions.

Your Solar Home is a privately held Canadian company which manufactures and provides renewable energy solutions for heating and ventilation that are efficient, cost effective and easy to install, helping Canadians do their part in reducing energy use. Your Solar Home Inc. will be distributing their products and solutions through authorized dealers and distributors.
